Dear Friends,

At a risk of stating the obvious, it seems summer weather has arrived! Not sure if this early hot weather is all we are having this year or whether we can expect some at the normal time in the later months. There are certainly some beautiful flowers blossoming at the moment and the new green leaves are very uplifting. For some reason it always takes me by surprise when I see the lilac in bloom at this time of year. I have a faulty memory of it being later when I was a child, we had both lilac and laburnum trees in our garden and I associate them with later in the summer for some reason.

We shall start this month of May with many special memories of our beloved friend, Billy. After a lifetime in the chapel at Scape, he has touched all our lives at some point and will be very much missed. Now in the presence of his precious Saviour and united with his dear wife, Margaret, we shall see him again when Christ returns. Not sure that there are mince pies in heaven though!

As Chris said in the April newsletter, we mourn on Good Friday but Easter Sunday brings the light of hope which shines for us all. This is how it is when we lose someone we love. Christ has promised that all tears will be wiped away in the new life to come, and there will be no more sadness. This world does not offer any hope, especially the way things are at the moment, but if we put our trust in the Lord Jesus and keep our eyes fixed on him, we have that sure and certain hope that comes from His saving grace.

Reading God's Word is one way to find out about this hope and all the loving promises that our Saviour offers. There is always something new to learn from the scriptures and if you need help with reading the Bible, please ask, we shall be glad to help.

Enjoy the good weather while it lasts – just in case it's all we're getting!

Thought
for the week

We shall have failed, and the blood of our dearest will have flowed in vain, if the victory which they died to win does not lead to a lasting peace
